

Admissions in a COVID World

Strategies for Survival

Today's discussion

Our question to tackle

In uncertain times like these, which recruitment and admissions strategies offer the best chances for surviving now and thriving in the future?

Our format

I'll give a series of prompts to our panelists to foster a discussion about challenges they've encountered during COVID and suggestions for providing flexibility while still ensuring quality, and staying true to the institution's mission and values. Q&A will follow.

Let's get started

While introducing yourselves, please tell us:

Introductions

What is one thing that has changed during COVID — personally, professionally or globally — that you never expected could change so quickly?

ETS Resources

- holisticadmissions.org

Holistic admissions and recruitment resources

New!

- holisticadmissions.org/be-informed

ETS's position on GRE score use and test-optional policies

- ets.org/gre/institutions

About the GRE tests and score interpretation

New!

- ets.org/gre/cv-update

COVID-related information